THE TOWN'S PEOPLE

George M. Dolan

"TWELVE THOUSAND TREES."

Just what are the duties of a Tree Warden? George M. Dolan, who fills this job most capably for the Town of Arlington, has all the answers. In fact, the Middlesex County Tree Wardens Association whose membership is made up of all the tree wardens in this area, are so confident that he knows his field that they have elected him to the presidency of their organization. Personable President Dolan, prematurely grey and of quiet manner, is as efficient about dispersing information about his work, too, and refreshingly cooperative. Says he, "The town tree wardens' duties consist of the care and preservation of all public shade trees." This includes the removal of trees when requested by citizens. He is on call at any time of night or day for emergencies such as removing trees and limbs after storms, as a safety measure. The removal of trees which interfere with public safety, or building, requires a public hearing. If no objections or adverse criticism of the requested removal is heard, then it is taken care of.

Since there are about 12,000 public shade trees in the town, Mr. Dolan is a busy man. A graduate of Arlington High School, class of 1919, he has taken special courses in entomology at Massachusetts State College and came to work for the Town in 1923. This coming May he will celebrate his 25th anniversary as a member of the town staff. During this time he has become acquainted with most of your town trees personally. He can walk along many a street and point out with pride, trees that he supervised planting years ago, and which are now attaining full growth.

The most common question he is asked lately is whether we have the Dutch Elm disease in Arlington. Although several neighboring communities have been hit by this dread blight which is destroying many of the most beautiful old elms for which New England is famous, Arlington does not have any signs of this destructive disease. This is due in no small part to the foresight of the Warden and his workers who have given two sprayings annually to the trees here as an extra precaution against this blight. This past summer, under Mr. Dolan's supervision, a group of experts scouted Arlington carefully for traces of Dutch Elm disease and five specimens were taken for analysis. All of them came back, report negative, much to Mr. Dolan's satisfaction.

Warrant to be Drawn

The Arlington Board of Selectmen have opened the Warrant for the annual town meeting which this year will be held on March 1 and 10, 1948. The first of the two dates is for the selection of town officers. The second is for the determination exclusively by town meeting members of articles appearing in that warrant. The Board of Selectmen will meet at their office Monday, January 26, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of drawing the warrant. All persons desiring articles inserted in the warrant must present such articles on or before that time, signed by at least ten legal voters of the town. All articles signed by the required number of voters and left at the office of the Board on or before 8 o'clock January 26, will be inserted in the warrant.

In August of 1887, the new station of the Boston and Maine Railroad at the Center was used for the first time.

LARGE ATTENDANCE HEARS BISHOP NASH OPEN INSTITUTE ON CHRISTIAN RELATIONS

First Meeting under Joint Sponsorship Held at St. John's Church.

A large number of interested citizens were in attendance at the first meeting in the series of the Institute of Christian Relations on Tuesday evening, to hear Rt. Rev. Norman B. Nash, Bishop of Massachusetts, open the discussions. Held under the joint sponsorship of St. John's Episcopal Church and the Pleasant Street Congregational Church, the opening session was in the hall at St. John's Church. Bishop Nash had as his topic, "The Christian: His Social Responsibility," and spoke forcefully to the assembly on the problems facing the individual and the world today. "In the network of habit and conduct which is civilization, our social responsibility is our moral responsibility," said Bishop Nash. He divided the modern Christians into three groups—the Conservatives, Liberals and Radicals, in their attitudes towards social change, and said that all three have contributed to Christian thought. "Christian social thinking has been static, whereas the social change is dynamic," he said.

The speaker commented that the long range program has been handicapped by those misguided Christians who believe God is about to step in and take over; or end the world. He believes that the three types must find a common ground and believe that God does not guarantee that the present is satisfactory. Each Christian must reconcile his beliefs with the findings of the social scientists who reveal how we can guide changes. Beginning now, each Christian has his part in helping in the joint effort for a better world. He must make up his mind how to go about it, and what platform he will take, recognize and ignore the differences of opinions and go to work. Ethics alone cannot explain the motivating power to do what shall be done, but religion does. "Take your part now. The living God marches forward," said Rev. Nash in conclusion.

The Bishop, who was unavoidably delayed in his arrival at the church, was greeted with the voices of his waiting audience. The speaker commented that the long range program has been handicapped by those misguided Christians who believe God is about to step in and take over; or end the world. Four Generations at Campbells' 55th Wedding Anniversary Party

Four generations of the family were present when Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Campbell, 48 School street, celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary last Sunday with a family party at the Town House, Lynnfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have two sons, Fred C. Campbell of Waltham, who was present with his wife. His daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Poole and her husband, from Ayer attended with their young son, Clark Poole, aged three, who is the grandson of the Campbells, and marks the fourth generation. Another son, John H. Campbell of 56 School street, former president of the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce, was also present with Mrs. Campbell and their two children, June, 18, and Paul, 13.

The elder Campbells were married in Cambridge 55 years ago. Mr. Campbell is the founder and president of the Superior Laundry in Cambridge, one of the largest laundry businesses in this area. The business is now being carried on by his two sons.

The anniversary party was a happy occasion, since the whole family could be together and enjoy the day.

Committee Named For Fuel Crisis

Acting in response to the request of Governor Bradford for the appointment of a local committee to handle requests from people in the community who are unable to obtain fuel oil or kerosene through their regular source of supply, the Selectmen at their meeting on Monday night, named such a committee to which the following citizens have been appointed: Benjamin F. Hickey, 58 Old Mystic street, chairman; William H. Dunn, 9 Windsor street; Joseph J. Campobasso, 14 Victoria road; John J. O'Neil, 41 Kenilworth road; Herbert L. Hutchinson, the town's sealer of weights and measures was also appointed to the committee, and his office at the Town Hall is to be made available for the use of the committee so that persons in need of relief may call in person or by telephone.

The Board was informed in the Governor's letter of the seriousness of the fuel oil and kerosene situation in Massachusetts, which with the continued cold weather has been growing rapidly worse. They were advised by him of his approval of a statewide emergency fuel oil plan, and of the appointment of a state fuel oil coordinator to expedite delivery of additional supplies of fuel oil and kerosene in Massachusetts, to assure the most equitable distribution of all available supplies to its citizens. In order to complete the organization under the present plan, boards of selectmen and mayors of cities have been asked to appoint such committees.

SLEEPING PILLS

As a result of the growing danger of misuse of barbiturates—or "sleeping pills" by the general public, the Massachusetts Pharmaceutical Association together with the State Health Department have filed bills for a State law to control their sale. It is shocking to learn that Bay Staters can still buy these tablets from some unscrupulous druggists without a doctor's prescription, and that in the past year nearly 50 people died in one Boston hospital alone from taking overdoses of these hypnotics. There is a federal law which requires that an original prescription from a doctor be produced for a druggist to make a sale of a barbiturate but, unfortunately for the welfare of sleeping pill addicts there are not enough federal inspectors to enforce the law. The danger in the pills lies in an overdose and their medical portent is different than in a narcotic. They are a dangerous, over-used drug, sold under 1000 different names and by a lot of innocent buyers endeavoring in many instances to obtain relief from the horror of sleeplessness or insomnia. Many of them, in direct disobedience of their physician's orders, if they have a legal prescription, seek relief by doubling or tripling a dose when sleep does not come with the prescribed amount. Therein lies the danger, for many of these people do sleep then, only they never wake again. The public must not be asleep to such danger and should give its full support to this needed legislation to curb the sales of these deadly pills.

CONGRESS CONVENES

The second formal session of the 80th Congress convened this week. Yesterday the President's annual State of the Union message was heard. Today, Thursday there is no session scheduled on the tentative timetable apparently. This probably gives the legislators time to catch their breaths and recover from sudden attacks of faintness, shock (or conscience) suffered yesterday. That is, if the President really got down to brass tacks and facts on certain phases of the national scene—particularly the cost of living. This is not a new Congress, but a resumption of the first session. Its problems are not new, either. But let's hope that it will be a new story to report on their progress—not the same old alibis.

PATIENCE

By REV. HALSEY I. ANDREWS
Rector of St. John's Episcopal Church

Patience is not a very popular virtue in these post-war days. We live at a great speed and our work is quite often far removed from tranquility. This speed is all to the good if it indicates keenness in our character. However, in days like ours when frictions seem to be the order we should slow down and become patient for good works. God, it appears, is not in a hurry. "The mills of God grind slowly." Even with our small minds we can begin to see His mighty purpose in this world and the slow unhurried march over centuries of history toward its consummation. God has His order, which is not to be hurried,—"first the blade and then the ear". There can be no jumping suddenly from the blade to full corn. There are no short cuts. Then why should we be so impatient in the perfecting of human character and relationships. Human nature can be changed but not in a hurry.

How desperately we hurry and in ways that weaken our service to mankind. What is it that lies at the bottom of all the intolerance and bigotry and dissension with which a religious people are so often charged? Impatience! Men in a hurry are unable to wait till truth prevails by its own righteousness. We do not really believe that nothing can finally stand against God's truth. If we did we would act differently.

In all our work we need to remember the patience of Jesus Christ. He was certain that the future abounded with good rather than evil, with love rather than hatred and strife. He was not worried for the wheat, even if tares were growing along with it. We need to recapture today the faith that any work done through Jesus Christ is abundantly worthwhile. It is the seed sown, and whether we ever see it again or not, God will take care of it. Our times are troubled because we have hurried too much and forgotten God. We must, if we are to survive, return to Him. He has His own times and His own order. If He can afford to be patient, surely we can.

We observed an ice boat skimming the glassy surface of Arlington Lake on Monday last, and for aught we know it has done and will do, the same every day while the ice lasts. A sail in such a craft must be charming.

The sport of racing on the Avenue is very much cultivated, even when the roads are rough with frozen mud. The last catie and their drivers enjoy it hugely, but the market wagons and heavy teams spoil the sport, for drivers of the latter never turn out for smaller craft and the result is sometimes a smash. Mrs. S. Fred Hicks, Mrs. Horace Homer and Mrs. H. B. Pierce have consented to matronize the select dancing party to be given under the direction of Mr. Wm. Hutton at Town Hall, January 17, when 10 pieces of Louis S. Poole's orchestra will furnish the music.

The new street on the Squire estate below Lake street named "Arlington" on the original plan has been re-named "Marathon".

Arlington society participated in an unusual number in a novel party given at Town Hall on the closing of the old year. Fully 200 people were present despite the stormy evening. It was a hurdy-gurdy party and the first given here. The party attests to the wide influence and popularity of the ladies of the Together Club under whose auspices the affair was given.

A real estate transfer of importance was put through when the market garden farm on Lake st., formerly owned and operated by the late William H. Allen, lifelong resident of Arlington, and at one time the largest individual taxpayer in town, was sold by his heirs to one of his sons, Herbert F. Allen, now living at 32 Lake street.

James R. Burns, the newly appointed member of the Police Department assumed his duties on Wednesday morning at roll call.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh I. Glynn, 74 Freeman street, presented a pretty picture of Saturday, January 6, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Glynn. Mrs. Herbert Gilman was also guest of honor, it being her birthday as well. Dinner and dancing were enjoyed as well as bridge. Highest honors were won by Mrs. Carl Blaser and Mr. Gilman.

The boys of the High School ice hockey team are having a hard time getting started, the weather conditions being very much against them.

IN MEMORIAM

(The following tribute was written by Mrs. Anna A. Buckley to her late neighbor and friend.)

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. Charles Taber, 21 Jean road, in the loss of his wife, Fanny (Coffin) Taber, who passed away on December 31, 1947, while at the Symmes Hospital where she had been confined for over five weeks as the result of a heart attack. Mrs. Taber was born in Boston but lived the greater part of her life in Somerville, where her father owned considerable property. Mr. and Mrs. Taber have lived at 21 Jean road for over 20 years.

Previous to her marriage, Mrs. Taber was a teacher of piano-forte and was also a church singer. Mrs. Taber was a good neighbor and her kind and thoughtful deeds will be greatly missed by her friends.

The following verse is in her memory. My memory strays To other days, and To other scenes so dear. I find among my souvenirs A letter from you Dear friend I read it o'er Then as before The tears fall To the end. I often think dear friend Of you, whom I have lost awhile But my heart Shall always hold The memory of your smile And thoughtful ways. Your name shall be remembered In the Blessed Presence there Where remembrances are sacred And each memory holds a prayer. Where loving thoughts Shall leave you In our Heavenly Father's care. Anna A. Buckley.

Dramatic Scene As Skaters are Rescued By Human Chain

Forty men, women and children forming a human chain across the ice of Mystic Lake, at the foot of Robinson road, were responsible for saving the lives of three young skaters last Thursday, in a dramatic rescue scene, witnessed by hundreds of New Year's Day skaters.

William McCaffrey, 21, of Pine street, and John J. Lynch, 23, of 24 Surrey road, broke through the weakening ice while skating, and another skater, Philip McAuliffe, 18, of Fairmont avenue, Wakefield, went to their rescue. He jumped into the water and kept Lynch afloat while McCaffrey struggled to find a firm grip on a more solid edge of ice. The other skaters gathered at a safe distance after putting in an emergency call for the Metropolitan District Police at the Falls Station. The MDC arrived quickly with a ladder and the spectacular rescue began. Starting from the shore, plucky rescuers stretched out one by one across the ice, testing its weight. Each one grasped the legs and feet of the person in front of him and the ladder was pushed to the rescuer heading the chain and one by one the water-logged men were pulled to safety. They were wrapped in blankets and rushed to Symmes Hospital where they were treated for shock and immersion. William McCaffrey was released and allowed to return to his home but the other two participants in the thrilling ice drama were held for further treatment. They were expected to be released shortly as their condition was described by authorities as "good."

mezzo-soprano Betty Dubro, 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gilman, 1500 Massachusetts avenue.

Miss Dubro, whose father is a well known contractor here, attended the public schools of Arlington and began her study of voice at the Malkin Conservatory of Music in Boston. During this period, when she was a lyric coloratura, she was frequently heard in Boston over radio station WMEX on the program "Curtain Time". She came to New York in 1943 to study with Ettore Verna and, since that time, has developed into a mezzo-soprano. Last summer she went to Italy where she made her operatic debut in Milan at the Teatro Lyrico as "Azucena" in "Il Trovatore".

From the Metropolitan Opera of the Air have come more than 40 singers, who have joined the Metropolitan Opera Association, including Rise Stevens, Robert Merrill and Eleanor Steber. As a result of their appearances on this nationwide broadcast January 11, both Miss Dubro and Mr. Guida will get their chances at contracts with the famous opera company.

They were first auditioned before the judge's committee and Wilfred Pelletier, Metropolitan Opera conductor who directs the orchestra and the singers on the Opera Auditions of the Air.

Each week two or more singers tests are heard on the weekly radio broadcast sponsored by the Farnsworth Television and Radio Corporation. Miss Dubro and Mr. Guida will be the second two young American singers to be heard on the 1948 series.

court case involving a tree. However, our Tree Warden points out that the intrinsic value of a full grown tree is far more as a natural example of beauty which cannot be replaced by mere man, despite scientific achievement.

New trees are planted by the town as a long range planning move. When a street is accepted by the town and the sidewalks and streets completed, the new trees are set out the following spring. In 1947 there were 278 trees planted but this year no new street planting is scheduled. Instead, a program of replacement is in order, principally of Norway Maples. To avoid any danger, no elms will be planted.

Warden Dolan has many calls from private individuals on the care of trees and since this is important to the welfare of the public trees as well, he is most helpful. There is plenty of annoyance here from tent caterpillars, he explains, but although unsightly, they are harmless. The biggest problem here is the Japanese beetle which eats trees down to bare skeletons and is difficult to control. The invention of DDT has proven a boon to tree care. In 1947, 700 private properties were also sprayed. Owners make a remittance to the town for the spraying costs, he pointed out.

He is a member of the Massachusetts Tree Wardens and Foresters Association and the Massachusetts Arborists Association. Married to the former Miss Lillian Ahearn of Stoneham, they have a son, Bobby, 13, a student at St. Agnes' school, who doesn't want to be a tree warden. He'd rather be a radio sports announcer. Mr. Dolan is active in the Touchdown Club which furthers interest in athletics among Arlington school children, but admits that his own sports life is merely confined to that of a spectator now. He is a Past, Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus, in Arlington.

SPY PONDERS DUNK MELROSE, 7-1 AFTER FIRST PERIOD SCARE

Kiniry and Emery Punch Two Goals Apiece to Lead Attack. Shea Chalks Up Three Assists. Doug Campbell Plays a Leading Role.

The defending league champions, Arlington, got a real scare early in their encounter with the Red Raiders of Melrose when foeman Field scored in the first 18 seconds after taking the face-off and splitting the Arlington defense. After three minutes, Tom Kelly scored his first goal of the year on a scrimmage in front of the Melrose cage. Bill Leary fed him a nice pass after a stick, took a return pass and hit the drape for the third Red and Grey score. Then Bill Leary scored his first goal of the season on a neat bit of stickhandling. Less than a minute later Ed Emery scored a goal from 10 feet out on a scramble in front of the net, with Donovan and Kiniry receiving assists. The third period opened with Ed Emery coming in all alone, but fate stepped in and Ed tripped and his chance was gone. Ed didn't make the same mistake twice, because the next time at 6:23 he scored his second goal unassisted. Bud Kiniry closed the session when he scored, assisted by Shea and Brad Donovan. The summary.

ARLINGTON (7)—G. Campbell; rd. Stevens; ld. Emery; c. Shea; rw. Donovan; lw. Kiniry. MELROSE (1)—G. Brackett; rd. Grocott; ld. J. Connolly; c. Field; rw. Carleton; lw. Webb.

Arlington alternates—Vincent, Leary, Kelley, Hardin, Robeson, Cunningham, Egan, Beardsley. Melrose alternates—Peters, Marsolais, Dockrell, F. Connolly, Williams, Titus, Place, Kennedy, Baker, Stiles.

CHIPPING THE ICE

During the second and third periods the locals donned white "T" shirts. The boys had the "new look" and received quite a ribbing from the largest crowd of the season, which ran close to 4000.

This game also brought back into action the stellar and stalwart defenseman of the home forces, Rodger Beardsley. Rodger when he came on the ice was told by the referee to don one of the T shirts and this made Rodger mighty red, as Rodger with that big frame of his had to get into a shirt that looked like a vest.

After the first goal by Field, Doug Campbell settled down and did some fine net-minding, especially on scrimmages in front of the nets.

The next weeks are tough ones. Starting off with Belmont, then follows the league leaders, Medford, and finally winding up with the Orange and Black of Newton.

FREE ELECTRICAL FAIR AT TOWN HALL NEXT WEEK TO DRAW HUGE CROWDS

school demonstration presented by the Home Service Division of the Boston Edison, featuring the use of electrical equipment, including the use of home frozen foods. There will be 32 booths, all equipped with the newest 1948 models of electric ranges, water heaters, automatic washers, dryers, ironers, etc., and many of these will be demonstrated to the audience.

In the evening, television will be introduced to Arlington when WBZ-TV will present a lecture and illustrated program on the subject which should be of attraction for every citizen. It will be awarded at the close of both afternoon and evening sessions, from attendance cards which will be given out at the fair. On Wednesday evening the grand prize of a Bendix washer will be given to the lucky winner by the Eastern Company, distributors of Bendix Washers. Sponsor for this new feature is the Boston Edison Company and the cooperating participants are:

the wholesale distributors in this area for electrical products, all of which are sold in Arlington by the various electrical dealers.

These fairs, designed to attract thousands of customers of Boston Edison and show them the benefits of modern Electrical Living—more comfort and more economy—will be presented in various cities and towns throughout the Edison area for the next five months. Arlington is honored as the first location for this fair which is an entirely new innovation.

Among the local co-sponsors of the Fair are Gahm & Erickson Company, Inc., dealers in Bendix, Frigidaire and Maytag appliances; Ken Atkinson, exclusive General Electric dealer; and the Arlington Appliance Center, dealers in Westinghouse, Universal and Admiral famous brand merchandise. Others are Avery's Radio Service, Philco and Gibson Refrigerators; Eastern Furniture Co., Laundrell and Ironrite. The entire job of wiring and special connections for the Fair is being handled by William F. Fitzmaurice, local electrical contractor.

Mr. and Mrs. McPherson To Live in Indiana

Miss Claire Irene Phillips, the daughter of Frank J. Phillips, 32 Coolidge road, became the bride of John Al McPherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McPherson of Craig, Nebraska, on December 28, at St. James Rectory, at three o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, and was a double ring service.

The beautiful bride wore a fashionable gown of white tulle in the new ballerina design. Her matching hat was trimmed with dainty white plumes and she carried a charming Colonial bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mary Virginia Phillips, who wore a dress similar to the bride's, but of peacock blue tulle with matching hat. She carried a bouquet of gold daisies and carnations in a Colonial bouquet arrangement. The best man was Mark Alan Richards. A reception followed, at the Winchester Country Club. Music for dancing was furnished by Ken Reeves' orchestra. Following a wedding trip to New York City the bride and groom left for Auburn, Indiana, where they will make their home. Mrs. McPherson is a graduate of the University of Iowa, and the Katherine Gibbs School. The groom attended the University of Nebraska and graduated.

ANDREW A. SKILLING

The following article about townsman Andrew A. Skilling of 316 Appleton street, was published in the December issue of "Equitable Items" of The Equitable Life Assurance Society:

"After serving as manager of the life insurance departments of two Massachusetts savings banks over a ten-year period, Andrew A. Skilling moved to Boston and went to work for the Society's MacLean Agency in that city. One sales conviction, carried over from his savings bank insurance experience, was an outsider's real appreciation of the big service value of the agent in the sale of life insurance. He lost no time in putting that belief into practice.

"That was in September of 1945 and in his first full year with the Society he qualified for the Quarter Million Club. In November of 1947 he was promoted for the $400,000 Club. Much of his sales volume stems from corporation and tax life insurance, of which he has made a close study.

"During the initial stage of his sales career he was a firm believer in joint work and he has now progressed to the point where he is being sought out by younger men who solicit his own services for joint sales efforts.

"Married and the father of two sons, Mr. Skilling takes an active part in the affairs of his community. He is on the Board of Directors of the Men's Club of the First Baptist Church, is a member of the War Orphans Committee and past secretary of the North Adams Kiwanis Club. He is also a member of the Boston Underwriters Association."

He is a graduate of Winchester schools, and was employed by Arlington Savings Bank from 1930 to 1942, being manager of their Life Insurance Department from 1935 to 1942.

Mr. Skilling managed the Life Insurance Department of the North Adams Savings Bank from 1942 to 1945, and joined the MacLean Agency of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U. S. in September of 1945. He was appointed Field Assistant in February, 1947.

Mr. Skilling is active in the Financial Division of the Greater Boston Community Fund Drive and the Red Cross.

A member of Hiram Lodge, A. F. & A. M., at present he is studying at Boston University for the degree of C. L. U. (Chartered Life Underwriter) and is currently president of his agency's 20 grand club.

Explorer Post 3 enjoyed three days of camping and skiing at Willard Brook State Forest Reservation over the last week end. Through arrangements with the Ranger at the reservation, the Post left by train early Friday morning, and holed up in Cabin No. 2, where they were cozy and warm despite the blizzard. Saturday and Sunday a number of ski expeditions over the adjacent hills were taken. Feature of the trip was the cooking of Chef-de-Gare Dolron, whose flapjacks, meat balls and beef stews are a tradition with the Post. Those taking the trip were Scouts Arthur E. Lansing, Raymond Willson, Arthur Dolron, Roy Nickerson, Richard Wilson, Eugene McCarty, Edward Brogan and Committeemen Arthur Nickerson and Frank H. Lansing.

Yankee Network Aids Yankee Friend Ship in Scotland

The power of radio as a medium of direct appeal to the hearts of New Englanders was proven again last weekend when WNAC and the Yankee Network aired a special program, the "Yankee Friend Ship Rally", on behalf of the cold and hungry people across the sea in Scotland. Conceived by Linus Travers, general manager of the Yankee Network in cooperation with Michael T. Kelleher, president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the results achieved mean that the holds of the Yankee Friend Ship, which sails from Boston for Glasgow, Scotland, are filled to the very top.

The program, emceed by Verne Williams and Lester Smith, of Yankee's Special Features Department, began at 11:15 p.m. on Friday and ended at 1 a.m. Saturday morning with a deluge of telephone calls from Maine to Connecticut and even one from Newfoundland, far exceeding all expectations.

The goodhearted people of New England pledged many thousands of dollars. The pledges are still coming in by wire, phone and letter. Individual contributions ranged from $1 to $6,000 worth of King Arthur Flour, from a carton of cigarettes to 10,000 feet of lumber, from one New Army blanket to a carload of 60,000 units of Ocean Spray products, and from a half pound of tea bags to 2,500 pounds of dried pea beans.

Supported by members of the clergy and interspersed with talent from the Yankee Network, including Morton Bowe, operator from Arlington, the program took on tremendous proportions as far as the listening audience was concerned shortly after it went on the air.

Mr. Kelleher said of the program, "The Yankee Friend Ship Rally broadcast was one of the greatest demonstrations of New England friendship that I have ever witnessed. Our greatest thanks to the Yankee Network and its entire staff for their magnificent efforts in behalf of a great cause."

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Sacrament" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, January 11.

Golden Text: "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all" (II Corinthians 13:14).

Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying: Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, and say unto them, Ye shall be holy: for I the Lord your God am holy" (Leviticus 19:1, 2). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

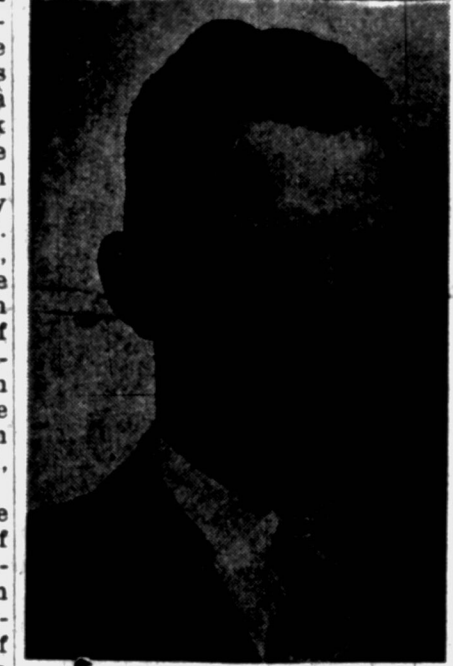

"We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity. The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration" (p. 241).

Writes Magazine Science Feature

Eugene F. Peterson, 77 Bartlett avenue, is co-author of an article which will appear in the January Scientific American. The magazine feature, "Prospecting from the Air", describes the use of the airborne magnetometer, a new exploration tool, in the search for oil and mineral deposits.

Peterson, who heads the Electronics Section of the Magnetometer Division of Aero Service Corporation, Philadelphia, has been working with the airborne magnetometer for more than a year. This new instrument is a modification of the device employed by the U. S. Navy during the war for submarine detection. The Scientific American article relates how, in its peacetime application, the airborne magnetometer records variations in the earth's magnetic field. These variations provide geologists and geophysicists with indications of the possible locations of oil or certain minerals.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

The Arlington Junior Woman's Club held its regular meeting Monday evening, January 5, at the Robbins Library Hall. A very beautiful fashion show presented by Charles Dolan & Sons, Furlers, was enjoyed by the members and their guests. The entire show was under the direction of Kenneth Dolan, who not only acted as master of ceremonies but also entertained by singing "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "More Than You Know." The exquisite furs shown were very ably displayed by both professional models and members of the club. This fashion show created additional interest because of the fact that Kenneth Dolan is an Arlingtonian.

The members are looking forward to the next meeting which will be held January 19 as another very interesting program has been planned.

Touchdowners to Honor 'Doc' McCarty

Mentor During Golden Sports Era Will Be Acclaimed Tonight

FORMER GREATS COME FROM FAR AND WIDE TO ATTEND

William T. McCarty, "Doc" to everyone, Arlington's famed athletic coach, will be honored tonight at a testimonial dinner at the Hotel Commander by the Arlington Touchdown Club. No one quite knows why this particular date was selected. Someone had an idea which caught on, snow-balled and blossomed with a burst.

Doc came to Arlington in the summer of 1911 from Holy Cross, was placed in charge of Spy Pond Playground. He became a staff member of the School Department in the fall of 1913. Thus this is the occasion of either 36 1/2 years of service to the town or 29 1/2 years to the School Department.

Two things endear "Doc" to the ever-increasing host of "his boys". He makes oldsters feel like a million dollars with his "This year's team was pretty good but they are not the boys you fellows were". The other typical remark starts out the same way. "This year's team was pretty good, but next year, Oh, Boy! Look, I've got a sophomore who'll..." "Doc" is always looking ahead. His optimism and indomitable spirit!

In those years, 1911-1920, "Doc" McCarty was coach of every sport—football, track, cross country, hockey and baseball. It is doubtful whether the combined records of his teams have ever been approached by any coach or group of "specialist" coaches.

The Golden Era
The years '12, '13, '14 and '15 were Arlington's Golden Era in all sports. The standard-bearers included such names as Bulger, Lowe, Dave Buttrick, Goldsmith, Brainy Bower, Plaisted, Olle Wood, Americo Chaves, Louie Cousins, and more. During this period "Doc" was track coach at Tufts, part time.

After service in Italy and Brest during World War I, the little man returned and the big football teams of 1919 and 1920 followed. "Buzz" Cooledge captained both.

As the High School population expanded, it became an impossible job for one man. Other coaches were added but none, with the possible exception of the late Fred Ostergren, ever surpassed the records of the McCarty-coached teams.

However, when a group gathers 'round and waxes too eloquently about the years 1911 to 1921, "Doc" himself usually slows them down with prior-McCarty names like: Jack Hutchinson, Traf Hicks, Harold and Ellis Wood, the White brothers. "Oh, oh," he will say, "those were real athletes. Oh boy, oh boy!"

"Doc" says he was born in 1880, but other records have it 1886. He went to Boston English High, then to what is now known as B. C. High. In 1903-1904 he attended Cornell University Veterinary School (hence the title "Doc"). There he was a sprinter and broad-jumper. He coached at Batavia High New York, in '05 and '06. The '07 and '08 he went to Ohio State, where he graduated and also coached track. As he says, "I had to go quite a distance along Daniel Boone's trail before anybody would give me a degree."

Always Next Year
After college much of his time was spent running exhibition races or barnstorming trips to

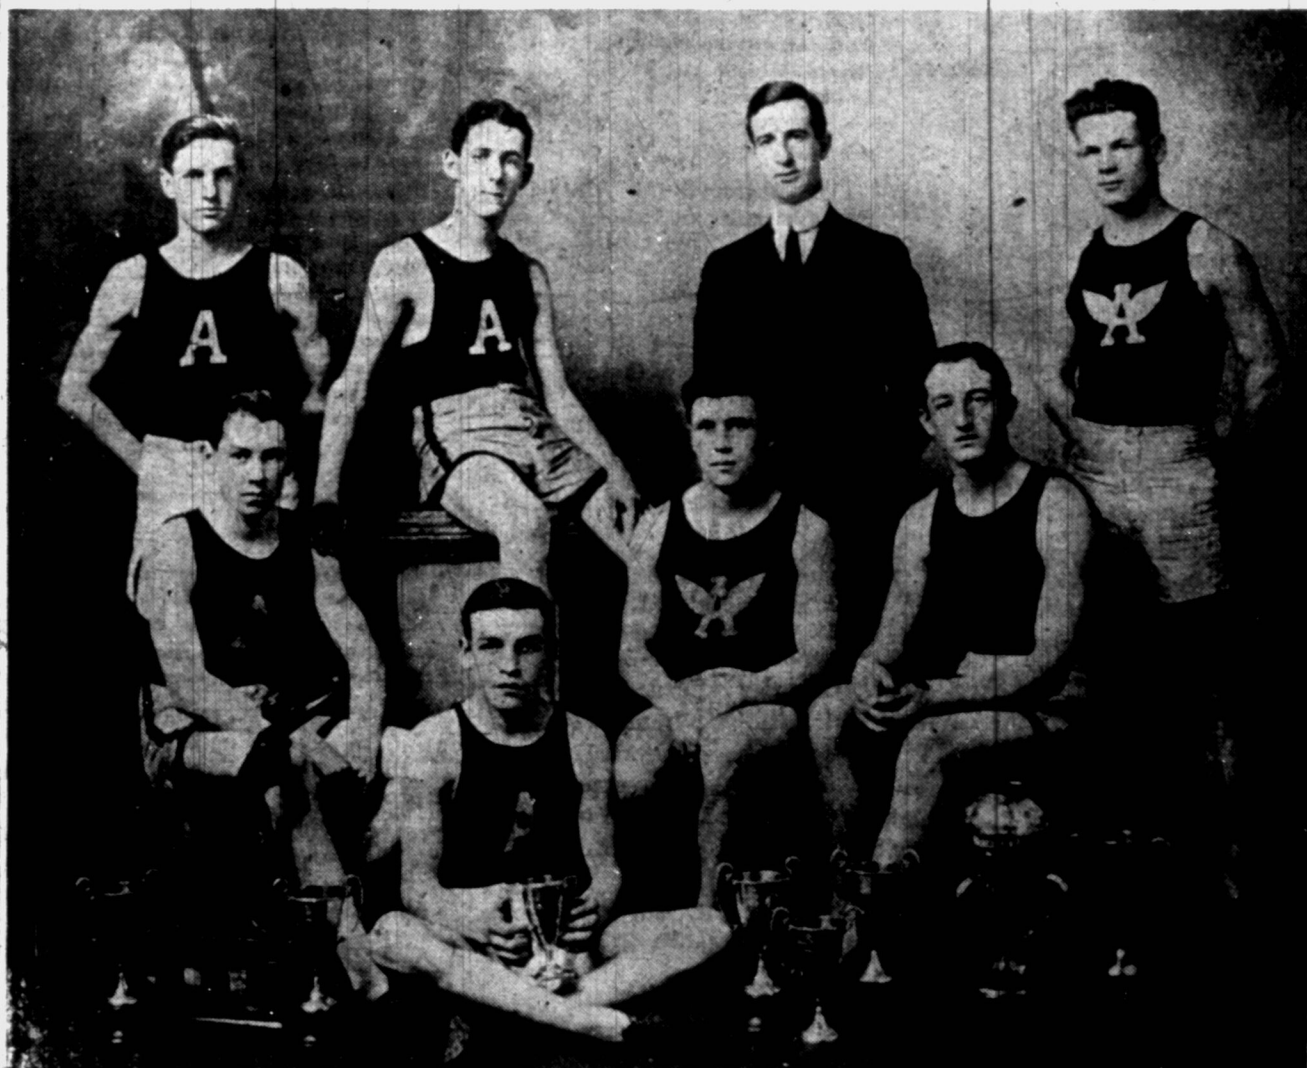

The Team of Teams — 1912

The Cross Country Team of 1912 won the National Interscholastics at Cornell University. "Doc" arrived in Arlington in 1911 and the following year produced this team. Standing are: Coach McCarty and Harold Kimball. Seated (left to right)—"Happy" Hatfield, Capt. Gaylord Goldsmith ("Arlington's greatest middle-distance runner"), Spin Wunderly and Charlie Adams.

Firemen's Outings and County nity did the same thing. A good, try teams; also is supervisor at Fairs. The races were handicap known runner had to start at the Junior High. Many more affairs. He ran under the name scratch! Of Billy Mack and 37 other "Doc" still coaches the Red I've got a boy—he's only a sophomore. All the running frater- and Gray track and cross coun-omore—next year he'll

The 1913 Cross Country Team

Second only to the team of the preceding year, these hill-and-dalers carried the local standards onward with a perfect season and enough cups to quench the thirst of a camel. Front row—Bill Robinson, Jim Mahoney, Capt. Harold Kimball, Clint Peabody. Back row—Forest Cameron, Leonard Collins, William T. (for terrific) McCarthy, and "Happy" Hatfield.

With Marathoner

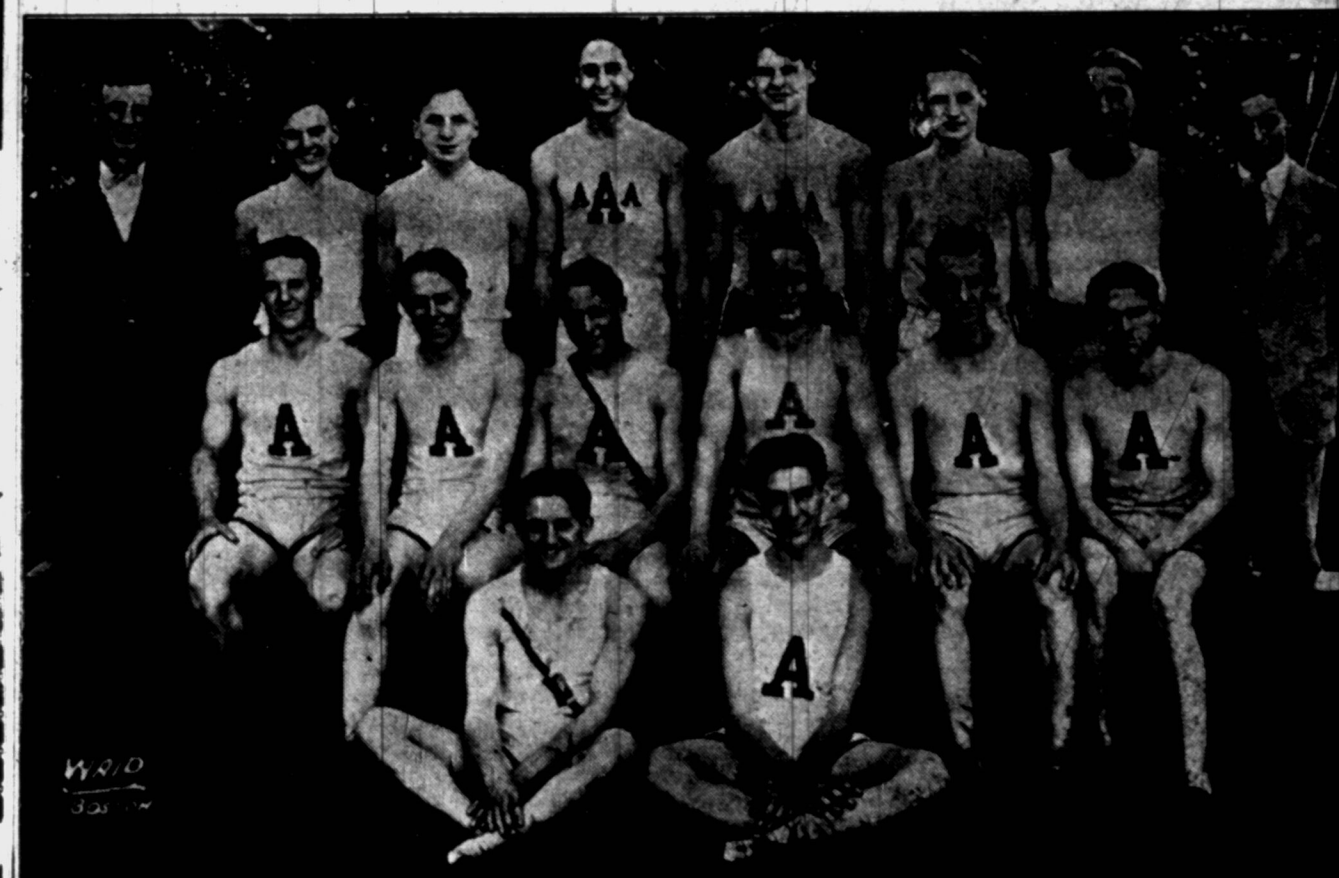

Taken last Spring, with Ed Frost, then President of the Touchdown Club, Coach McCarty is seated beside the great Johnny Kelly. All three are quite alike, being imbued with an indomitable spirit and the love of life and competition. During his high school career under McCarty, Johnny was not a star, the mile being too short a distance. After graduation, he concentrated on the longer distances. He represented the United States in the last Olympics.

The Victorious Valiants of 1920

Led by Capt. "Buzzer" Cooledge, the team of 1920 won the Mystic Valley Championship. In those days each league team was played twice. Although averaging not much more than 165 pounds, the club granted Mystic Valley opposition 3 paltry points. Front row—King Lowe (brother of Bulger), Grant Mills, Capt. Cooledge, Sykes Hardy, Dave Barr. Second row—"Arlington's only", "Tacks" Crosby, Bill Tobin, Ellery Duncan, "Deke" Ogilvie, John Crosby. Third row—Ed Viano, Dan Murphy, Hubert Danton, Harold Hargrove, and Gordon Boyd.

They Carried On

The 1927 track team has two intercollegiate boxing crown at the Mystic Valley Championship right is Dick Lombard, captain and probably (there is some of B. U. hockey team, Behind doubt) the Harvard Interscholastic team. Art Lane of the famous Lane family, later captain Lombard, Leonard "Ben" Wood, went on to greater things in co- team of 1931. Seated at Gutzmann's right is Dick Carroll, let's called America's greatest ter man in track at Yale and at Marathomer; Al Gutzmann (2nd present in Blue's athletic department, third from right) won the ment.

Friends of James P. McCarty of 350 Mystic street will be sorry to hear that he is ill at Symmes Hospital. —Mr. and Mrs. Bert A. Shields and their daughters, Pamela and Brenda, of 59 Elliot road, returned this week from Quincy, Illinois, where they have been visiting Mr. Shield's family. —Mr. and Mrs. W. Alan Morton of 11 West Court terrace and their baby daughter, Meredith, returned from a business trip to Florida shortly before Christmas. After their return, the Mortons, with their other children, Ruth and Billy, went to the Berkshires to spend the holidays with Mr. Morton's family, returning home last Friday.
